DIRECTIONS

Shell Knob, Missouri, is located in the southwestern corner of Missouri. It is south of Mount Vernon (a city on I-44) by about an hour. Whether you're coming from the East or west, we recommend you stay on I-44 as long as possible. From I-44 south (MO-265/MO-39). Stay on MO-39 as it goes through Aurora. Continue south on MO-39 until one mile north of Shell Knob.

About one mile north of Shell Knob, look for an abandoned gas station on the East and the Central Crossing Fire District building on the West. There is also a Camp Table Rock sign in front of the gas station. Turn East on Lake Road 39-4 (Stallion Bluff), right in front of the abandoned gas station. This is a right turn if you're coming from the South, and left turn if you're coming from the North. Follow the Camp Table Rock arrow signs. It is a curvy 11 miles from Highway 39 to camp!
